The Bennett House is adding a desirable feature in the shape of a fine sun parlor. Nothing conduces more to health than a daily sun bath, and the Bennett House proposes to leave nothing undone that adds to the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

The formal announcement of the Clarendon Inn, one of the largest, coziest and best appointed hotels on the Florida ocean beach, is found in the Gazette-News hotel columns with this issue. Neither pains nor expense has been spared to make the hotel as comfortable and inviting as luxurious furnishings and decorative art can go. This season's guests, under the watch care of Dr. and Mrs. Potter, will find everything the best, and we predict that the Clarendon is entering a new era of prosperity and popularity.

Fudge.
Take two cups of sugar and one cup of milk.
Of chocolate—the unsweetened kind—One-fourth of a pound, and of butter a lump.
Like a walnut is ample, you'll find.

Melt all of the chocolate over the steam of a kettle that merrily sings.
And you may sing, too, as you busily stir in one saucepan these various things.

Now beat well together and set them to boil.
Ten minutes—or fifteen at need—
But stir all the time with a long kitchen spoon.
If your "fudge" would be "fudgy" indeed.

When it thickens enough to lift off the stove.
Pour in your vanilla to taste;
Then beat it again with a light, skillful hand.
You have two or three minutes to waste.

While cook greases the pan; just keep stirring around;
Remember, 'tis not work, but fun;
Then pour out your candy and set it to cool.

And when it is very near done
Cut into small squares, just the size of a bite.
And pass it around with a will,
For when that has vanished 'tis easy again.
The pans with fresh candy to fill.

AN OLD FAVORITE

LUCY

By William Wordsworth

"LUCY" is one of the beautiful minor poems of William Wordsworth, poet laureate of England. It is also known by its first line, used as a title. The last two lines of the second stanza are especially praised by critics as among the finest in the English language.

HE dwelt among the untrodden ways
Beside the springs of Dove;
A maid whom there were none to praise,
And very few to love.

A violet by a mossy stone
Half hidden from the eye
Fair as a star, when only one
Is shining in the sky.

She lived unknown, and few could know
When Lucy ceased to be;
But she is in her grave, and O,
The difference to me!
